

FUGITIVES HURL BODY OF WOMAN FROM THEIR CAR

Captured After Battle
with Oklahoma State
Police Last Eve

Oilton, Okla., Aug. 10.—(AP)—Two prison fugitives who hurled the shot-torn body of a woman clad in red from their speeding automobile, wounded Oilton's police chief and kidnaped a farmer, were held today as officers hunted a motive for the woman's death.

The gunmen, Bill Hall, 25, and Joe Lovelace, 24, surrendered to highway patrolmen west of here last night after a running gunfight. Hall had been shot five times.

Bill Glimp of Drumright, the farmer-hostage, had a flesh wound in one leg. Patrolmen mistook him for one of the fugitives.

Sheriff L. L. Fisher said Lovelace declared the slain woman, whom he identified as Jeanne Culp, 30, Asher, Okla., was thrown from the car because "she seemed to be dead" and Hall complained that her body interfered with his driving.

As they drove through Oilton following a pistol-shotgun duel in which Police Chief Ben D. Clark was wounded critically, Lovelace said he noticed the woman was wounded badly. He contended, Fisher said, that he did not know who shot her, nor did he account for her presence in the car.

Clark and Constable C. J. Irwin, hunting three men who robbed an Oilton restaurant earlier in the day, halted a black sedan in which Hall, Lovelace, and the woman and a negro were riding. The officers leaped to the running boards. Irwin emptied his pistol into the car, and fell off as it sped away.

Body Found Later
The body of the attractive red-haired young woman was found on a business street a short time later.

Undertaker J. D. Hurley said she was shot twice at close range with a shotgun, one charge entering her left thigh and the other her left breast.

Speeding southward over a country road, the gunmen took another car from Earl Williams, Oilton. Later, near Drumright, they kidnaped Glimp and commanded his 11-year-old automobile.

The negro was gone when the fugitives reached Glimp's farm and Lovelace told Fisher he apparently jumped out of the car after the Oilton gunfight.

Forcing Glimp to replace the wounded Hall behind the wheel, the gunmen raced southward. As they crossed the Cimarron river bridge near Perkins, they were challenged by Highway Patrolmen John Boyd and J. R. Butler.

After a short chase the car was stopped. Glimp darted out and was shot in the leg. Hall and Lovelace came out with their hands high.

Hall, who escaped from the Oklahoma state prison at McAlester July 7 while serving a 10-year term for burglary from Shawnee, was taken to a Stillwater hospital. His condition was reported dangerous.

Lovelace, who on July 26 fled the Nebraska state prison farm at Genoa where he was doing five years for forgery from Lincoln, was placed in jail at Stillwater.

Fisher said Lovelace related that he and Hall planned the restaurant robbery, leaving the woman in a field before the holdup and going back for her afterward. They met the negro when they went back for the woman, he added.

"He wanted to come along with us and he had a shotgun, so we took him," Fisher quoted the fugitive.

Assaulted Stewardess Returns to New York; Case is Said "Closed"

New York, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Pale and apparently weak, 24-year-old Rosemary Griffith, American Airlines stewardess who said an unknown assailant knocked her unconscious during a flight Wednesday to Nashville, Tenn., returned today to New York.

She was helped from a sleeper plane into a waiting taxicab, which sped away, presumably to her Flushing home. Efforts to talk with her were unavailing. A spokesman for the American Airlines said: "The case is closed. The girl will go back to routine trips."

Previously, she had repeated at Nashville her story of being felled by a blow from behind by a man who demanded the key to a mail compartment—a key Miss Griffith swallowed before losing consciousness. Since, she has been in a Nashville hospital.

Wrong Hunch

Boston, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Vincenzo Mione, 37, trying to get a job aboard a fishing vessel, needed to be certified as a man of good moral character, so he strolled into police headquarters to be fingerprinted.

He didn't get the certificate, though, because the prints disclosed he was wanted for illegal entry into the United States six years ago, and U. S. immigration authorities took him into custody to await deportation proceedings next week.

Use of Depot Ave. for Carnival Is Voted by Council

A delegation from Horace F. Crtt post, No. 540, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Dementtown businessmen attended the council session last evening in the interest of the Fall Festival which is planned for Sept. 9 to 14. Past Commander Welker was the spokesman for the delegation and asked the council's permission to use Depot avenue from Sixth to Ninth streets. The re-routing of traffic was discussed and Commissioner Tyler offered his services in diverting the traffic and superintending the policing, the council voting unanimously to confer these duties upon him.

The services of the Dixon Civic band for one concert in Dementtown were also sought by the delegation and Mayor Slothower gave the assurance that he would consider the proposal.

During the brief council session Commissioner Valle voiced his disapproval and demanded action by the commission immediately, in preventing evicted families being placed in a neighborhood where the residents own their own homes. He stated that a great injustice had been forced upon those property owners who had been discriminated against in this respect.

Mayor Slothower replied to the criticism stating that he was aware of the condition referred to and adding that other instances of similar nature prevailed in the city. He added that he had been solicited to find a home for one of the families but that after spending more than two hours in search of a vacant house suitable, had found that such locations did not exist in the city.

The mayor also stated in response to the commissioner's demands that the city was powerless to act in any relief case, and was supported in his statement that the supervisor of Dixon township was authorized to conduct all duties pertaining to relief and the city had no legal right to attempt to interfere.

The council voted unanimously to change paragraph two of the city zoning ordinance and claims against the city amounting to $3,750.36 were ordered paid.

U. S. to Have Diplomatic Listening Posts In French West Africa

Washington, Aug. 10.—(AP)—The state department disclosed today that it was establishing diplomatic listening posts at Dakar, French West Africa, nearest point in Africa to South America, and at St. Pierre-Miquelon, French insular possession off the coast of Canada.

An announcement of changes ordered recently in the American foreign service revealed that the American consulate at Dakar, closed in 1931 as part of an economy drive, would be re-opened shortly.

Dakar is the hopping off place for France's transatlantic air service to South America when that service, now dormant, is operating.

The state department disclosed also that the consulate at St. Pierre-Miquelon, which is south of Newfoundland, also would be re-opened.

Marines Ordered to Base in Cuba to be Near Latin-American Areas

Washington, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Amid far-reaching plans to in the Caribbean, the navy is strengthening United States defenses during 2,900 marines to Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, for intensive training maneuvers.

The contingent—the first marine brigade of Quantico, Va.—would be in a position to reach Central or South America, quickly, should any trouble requiring their presence arise.

The navy already has undertaken conversion of four fast American ships into "destroyer transports" so that the brigade could be moved swiftly.

The action comes shortly after the adoption at the Havana Pan-American conference of a resolution expressing opposition to the transfer to other non-American nations of foreign possessions in this hemisphere. The conference

THOUSANDS FLEE FROM HOMES IN LOUISIANA FLOOD

Scores of Towns Are
Inundated; Crops
Are Damaged

Crowley, La., Aug. 10.—(AP)—Boats were rushed by water, train and tractor today to this south-west Louisiana section where some 10,000 persons were made homeless by the greatest rain flood in the state's history. Precipitation totaled as much as 24 inches in 24 hours in some places.

A score of towns and communities were inundated, some without water, lights or sewer facilities, and many homes were reported to have drifted away. Rice, cotton and corn crops were heavily damaged, roads were blocked.

Crowley, rice capital of America, was in darkness last night and most of its business houses had several feet of water above the flooring. The sewerage and water systems were out of commission.

Other towns inundated or partially flooded included Lafayette, Rayne, Kaplan, Scott, Erath, Delcambre and Gueydan.

Gov. Sam Jones made a radio appeal for boats and co-ordinated state, federal and local relief work. Doctors, nurses and medical supplies were rushed in a reports of epidemic danger spread.

Railway Continues Service
The Southern Pacific railway continued to operate as its roadbed is elevated throughout the section.

Refugees were being bunked in warehouses, business establishments and public buildings, most of them on upper floors. Business in the area was practically at a standstill.

The torrential rains followed a tropical hurricane which tore along the coast last Tuesday before going inland into Texas. The blow pushed tidal water far inland and aggravated the menace of rain. Only one fatality, a drowning, has been reported during the week.

The rain generally had stopped falling today and it was believed the accumulated water would begin to subside.

Aviator Dahl's Wife to Reside in Canada for Duration of War

Montreal, Aug. 10.—(AP)—To escape what she termed "threats" from nazi and fascist sympathizers in America, Mrs. Edith Rogers Dahl, wife of the Champaign, Ill., aviator, says she plans to live in Canada for the duration of the war.

Her husband, Harold Dahl, who narrowly escaped execution by a firing squad during the Spanish civil war, is an instructor with the Royal Canadian Air Force at Camp Borden, Ont. Mrs. Dahl said she had come here to be near her husband and to escape further annoyance.

"The G-men provided me with a bodyguard," Mrs. Dahl said, because of threats made by nazi and fascist sympathizers by letter and in person.

Dahl was captured by Generalissimo Franco's men while flying for the Spanish republicans. He was released last March.

Niles Center Changes Its Name to "Skokie"

Niles Center, Ill., Aug. 10.—(A P)—After wrangling for two years about it, this Chicago suburb has agreed to change its name.

A committee of village trustees and civic leaders decided the community should henceforth be known as Skokie (pronounced Sko-kee, accent on the first syllable).

Citizens clamoring for a new name said Niles Center made the suburb sound like a hick town. Opponents said Oshkosh, Wis., and Kalamazoo, Mich., were doing all right despite their names.

Skokie is an Indian name. The village is in the Skokie valley.

Farley Chairman Coca Cola Corp. Export Business

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 10.—(A P)—James A. Farley, retiring Postmaster General and Democratic national chairman, today was appointed chairman of the Coca-Cola Export Corporation.

Robert W. Woodruff, chairman of the Coca-Cola Company's board of directors, announced Farley had accepted a position "in charge of all export business and particularly of the expansion of our business in foreign countries."

Farley's resignation as Democratic chairman becomes effective August 17 and he leaves the cabinet August 31.

Woodruff indicated the retiring postmaster general would report here after a vacation and said his headquarters would be in Wilmington.

A company spokesman said Farley has been "acquainted for years with Woodruff and that his appointment climaxes discussion between the two 'over a considerable period'."

May Head Yankees, Also
It is up to Farley, the spokesman added, to say whether he will disclose his salary and when he will start his new job.

Reports have been current that the retiring Democratic leader, who bowed out of politics after his party's recent national convention, would head a syndicate to purchase the New York Yankees American League baseball club.

A Coca-Cola Company official said he did not believe Farley's position as head foreign salesman for the soft drink would interfere with any plans he might have about the baseball team. He added, however, that Farley must make this decision himself.

In New York, a close friend of Farley said the Postmaster General's new position with the Coca-Cola Corporation in no way would interfere with his negotiations to buy the New York Yankee baseball property.

Police Intensify Hunt for Women Fugitives

Dwight, Ill., Aug. 10.—(AP)—State and local police intensified their search today for two women fugitives from the Oakdale women's reformatory.

Prison authorities said the two women, Eleanor Jarman, Chicago convicted murderer, and Mary Foster, bank robber and thief, who escaped from the reformatory Thursday, might be hiding in Chicago.

Miss Helen Hazard, superintendent of the reformatory, said that a motorist reported picking up two women answering the description of the fugitives in his automobile north of Dwight and taking them to Morris. He later identified pictures of the fugitives.

Mrs. Jarman—known as the "blonde tigress"—was serving a 199-year term for her part in the holdup murder of a Chicago haberdasher.

COMPROMISE TALK RECEIVED COLDLY IN DRAFT DEBATE

Proposal of Senator
Maloney Spurned
By Leaders

Washington, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Administration leaders turned a cold shoulder today to talk of a compromise in the Senate fight over conscription.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic floor leader, expressed the opinion to reporters that conscription and voluntary enlistments could not be linked successfully in such a system as that offered by Senator Maloney (D-Conn.), as a substitute for the Burke-Wadsworth bill.

Maloney would require the registration of all men from 21 through 30, as would the Burke-Wadsworth bill, but he would delay the draft until January 1 while voluntary enlistments were sought. If these enlistments did not fill the army's quota, conscription would be ordered.

Maloney said his proposal appeared to be attracting increasing support, despite administration opposition and the reluctance of conscription opponents to agree that the draft might be needed while the nation was at peace.

Compromise Likely

Of the latter group, Senator Nye (R-ND), said he was willing to have men from 21 through 30 registered in order to have the draft machinery ready if war came, but could see no reason for abandoning the traditional American peacetime policy of voluntary enlistments.

He predicted that supporters would find it necessary to compromise the Burke-Wadsworth bill before they could obtain Senate approval.

This view was echoed in private by one administration strategist, who said he had no doubt that some sort of conscription bill would be voted by the chamber. He said it was "touch and go," however, whether the Maloney proposal or some similar compromise would be adopted.

The Senate will resume debate on the Burke-Wadsworth measure Monday after a weekend recess.

Belligerents Settle Down to Punishing War of Air Power: Italy Claims Gain

Rumania Presses
Drive on Jews as
Sop to Nationals

(By The Associated Press)

Bucharest, Rumania, Aug. 10.—(AP)—The government, forced by axis desires to negotiate forthcoming territorial cession to Bulgaria and Hungary, vented its wrath today on the Jews.

In placing new anti-Jewish laws into full effect, the government apparently was motivated by the fact that the most nationalistic Rumanian elements, which are opposing any territorial cession, also are the most anti-Semitic.

Taking their cue from Premier Ion Gurgu's assertion that obedience to German-Italian wishes, while necessitating "painful sacrifices" at least "would rid Rumania of 'Jewish influence,'" the newspapers devoted many columns of anti-Jewish measures and resultant "benefits" to non-Jews.

Explanation of the laws thus was given far more space and prominence than the speech in which the premier said it was necessary for Rumania to give up part of her soil.

Political circles expressed belief the concession to the nationalist elements on the Jewish question would lessen their opposition to the territorial negotiations, and permit the government to yield some land without serious internal difficulties.

Conferences Begin

Official circles said conferences with Bulgaria's representatives would begin this weekend in King Carol's country palace at Segarcea, a village near Craiova, where it was reported previously the negotiations would be continued. Bulgaria claims southern Dobruja, taken by Rumania in 1913.

Negotiations with Hungary over her claims to Transylvania, acquired by Rumania after the World war, are to follow.

Police arrested scores of persons yesterday on charges of spreading false news and hustled them off to concentration camps. All the prisoners were identified with the liberal and democratic factions, and most of them were Jews.

Since the new anti-Jewish laws cut off most of Rumania's 755,000 Jews from public office, many professions and other fields, their jobs will be available to non-Jews, the newspapers pointed out.

The press also stressed the fact there will be many business opportunities for Gentiles, since Jews are barred from engaging in many businesses.

Egyptian army is ready to line up with British to halt any Italian invasion; Italians drive on in British Somaliland.

By The Associated Press

Belligerent powers settled down today to a punishing war of air power. The United Kingdom, the European continent and Africa felt and heard the crash of bombs, the thunder of anti-aircraft fire and chattering of machinegun fire in growing volume.

Italy claimed further gains in her land drive into British Somaliland and all the belligerents issued communiques telling of aerial exploits.

The Germans said: Their methodical bombers working "on schedule," blasted British airports and munitions plants, causing great fires and explosions, destroyed an airport runway north of Bristol and blasted shipyards; German anti-aircraft batteries brought down two British planes, bringing their total bag for the war to 1,500 "enemy" planes.

The Italians said: Their columns, pushing into Somaliland, have passed Aden, east of Hargeisa; their planes bombed Berbera, main airport of British Somaliland; their warplanes hit British objectives along the Egyptian coast; British battleship Resolution and a destroyer were damaged seriously by bombs August 7.

The British said: Their aircraft bombed an Italian vessel in Tobruk harbor, Libya, setting it afire; French pilots cooperated in reconnaissance and the R. A. F. bombers struck at the Italian base at Berbera, near Hargeisa; British bombers made a successful, damaging raid on Massawa, Eritrea; the British South African air force blew up two Italian bombers and damaged two others at the Italian airbase at Negel, Ethiopia.

All day long the German raids on Britain continued, causing a number of casualties and provoking dog fights with defending fighters.

Germany, serving notice she prepared as well for a long war as for a blitzkrieg, announced through press and radio that her own food supplies and those of the Balkan states are ample to last the winter, and that the fate of the people in countries she has occupied is no great concern of hers.

Fly in Ointment

There appeared to be at least one fly in the nazi ointment, however. In Bucharest, Rumanian officials declared Russia's grab of Bessarabia and northern Bucovina had deprived Rumania of crops that would have been sufficient to fill Germany's import needs.

At the same time Rumania, pre-

With new materials and methods of application advanced tremendously in the past few years, with low cost financing, with new well-planned subdivisions, with a definite desire for a home of their own and all its conveniences, America looks forward to one of the biggest building years in a decade.

America wants homes of her own for her families and children, and hundreds of families in every locality are making preparations to begin actual home construction this spring. With rent advancing, with the decline of good rentable property and with a desire to become a permanent part of their community, these families are turning toward owning property. Today, a sense of security and permanence of employment is giving momentum to the building industry as a whole.

U-SHAPED KITCHEN STRIKING AND EFFICIENT

Without doubt, careful planning made possible the striking kitchen shown above. A marvel of economy and efficiency, no detail was left undone to offer the utmost in perfection, where meal preparation is concerned. Note the glorious amount of cupboard space, the sink with the electric dishwasher, the large refrigerator, and the mottled brown and cream linoleum floor with black feature strip. Predominating colors are white and brown, with a touch of red in the pottery and utensils. Kitchen modernization is easy with low interest rates and monthly payments applied over a period of three to five years.

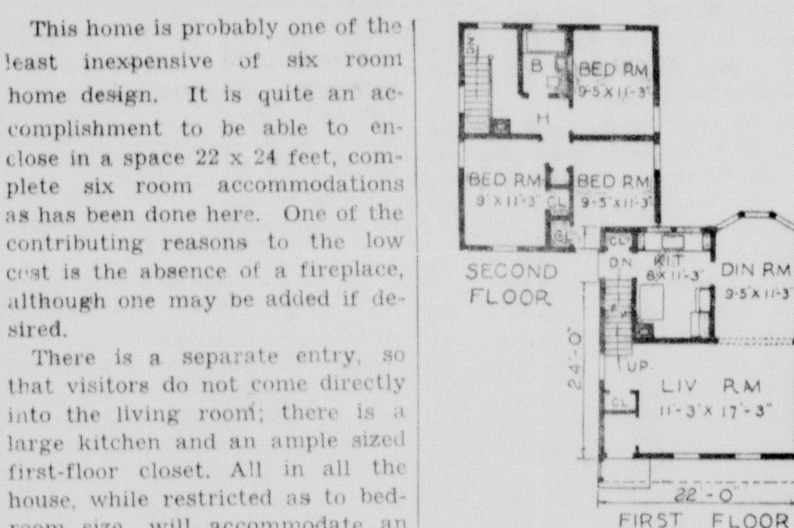

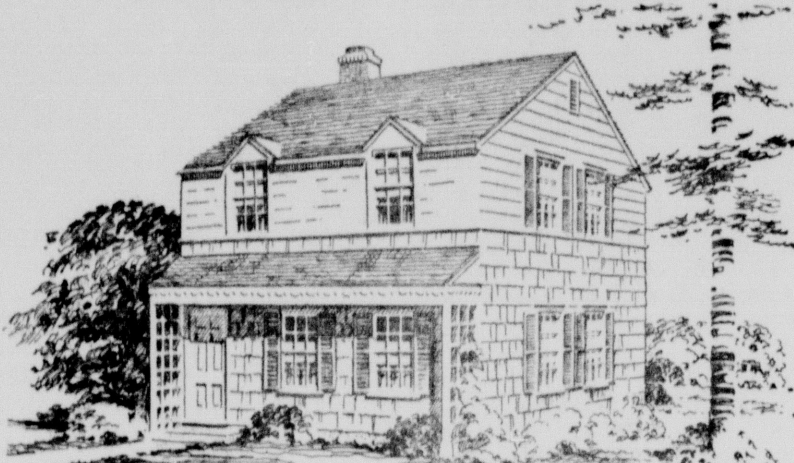

Many delightful homes feature different period of furnishings and decoration in each room. For example, the living room may be Eighteenth Century, the dining room Swedish Modern, one bedroom in Colonial Maple and one in period French. This allows an interesting and untiring appeal to each room in the home.

BLUE—Blue is a cool color that may be used to achieve an effect of restfulness and dignity. The combination of receding blue walls with darker floors and blue feature strips around the molding and baseboards is effective. Some colors used best with blue are off-white, grey, canary, orchid, pale green, and buff.

GREEN—Cool greens are excellent for rooms receiving direct sunlight. A delicate blue-green for the walls and a deeper gray-green for the woodwork is harmonious. Furnishings in red, orchid and white go well with green. Green in deep shades, like red, is best used only for contrast.

For the first five months of 1940, airline traffic stood at 352,105,973 revenue passenger miles—an increase of 63.79 per cent.

SIX ROOMS . . . INEXPENSIVE

This home is probably one of the least inexpensive of six room home design. It is quite an accomplishment to be able to enclose in a space 22 x 24 feet, complete six room accommodations as has been done here. One of the contributing reasons to the low cost is the absence of a fireplace, although one may be added if desired.

There is a separate entry, so that visitors do not come directly into the living room; there is a large kitchen and an ample sized first-floor closet. All in all the house, while restricted as to bedroom size, will accommodate an average family at very low cost.

The division of materials between shingles and siding helps until frost time. Plant large stemmed flowers as a background for your garden so the sun will strike those in front and also to afford a lovelier view of all flowers planted.

Most flowers need adequate sunlight to produce healthy growth. Flowers planted in rows may not look quite so attractive, but they are easier to cultivate. Complete gardens of flower seed may be purchased together with a diagram for planting.

Check List Below for Adequate Wiring

One of the first essentials when building, buying or modernizing is to provide adequate wiring for every electrical need. Be sure to include enough branch circuits since each circuit has its own set of fuses which safeguards the appliances drawing current from that branch and allows you to separate noises that interfere with radio reception. Be sure the wire size is enough to carry the load of current needed. You never can have too many conveniences and lighting outlets . . . use them freely. Accidents often occur when a dark room must be entered to find the light switch. Two or three way switches allow you to turn lights off and on as you go from room to room.

If you cannot use a majority of these electric aids, your home is not electrically modern. When building or modernizing show this list to your contractor. He will follow your instructions.

No Scandal in Relief Administration in Lee

That there have been no violations of the rules pertaining to the handling of relief in Lee county, and there are no reports of dishonesty or corruption in the administration, was the statement given out by State's Attorney Edward A. Jones today. The county prosecutor replied to an inquiry in which he was asked whether or not an investigation would be made in the county as suggested by Attorney General John E. Cassidy. In reply State's Attorney said:

"I have not received a communication from the attorney general concerning an investigation into relief administration in Lee county, as yet. There have been only two cases which have come to my attention during the entire period in which relief has been administered, and in neither of these has there been any indication of fraud or dishonesty."

"Both cases were investigated and it was found that they resulted in errors being made in filing the applications for relief, which were promptly adjusted. The supervisors of Lee county have honestly and intelligently handled the relief situation in our county and applicants have been warned of the consequences of falsification and fraud which has resulted in the proper administration."

DINING ROOM IN REGENCY PERIOD

Creating a traditional room with an air that is definitely modern, a combination of pale gray with green, eggshell and raspberry is used with satisfying results. The walls are painted a lovely tint of pale gray. On the eggshell tinted ceiling a stenciled design in green is softly illuminated by lights concealed behind the molding. The floor covering is also green and the fabric used for the draperies and some of the chairs is diagonally striped in eggshell, green and raspberry. The beautifully finished Regency furniture is of mahogany. Note the round table, indicating a return of the dining room make it a pleasant and comfortable room to gather in.

Making Plant Cuttings

Do not fear cutting your plants back to make slips. They will fare better for the treatment. Make all cuttings (slips) from healthy plants. Cuttings should be three or four inches long. Cuttings that are too long do not root easily. If the leaves left on the cuttings are large, cut off about two-thirds of the leaf, leaving a triangular piece at the leaf stem. Next remove all flowers and buds. Cut through an eye or node (joint of a stem) for the base of the slip. Now place the slip in sand to root. Sand is preferable because it is porous and lessens decay. Shade slips with newspaper. You may place a fruit jar over slips that are difficult to root. When the roots are a half inch long it is time to pot them in a good loam soil.

Many homes being planned for newlyweds are so arranged that the dining room may be converted into a guest room or child's room when needed. The kitchen usually contains a breakfast nook, dining space being provided in one corner of the living room.

DECORATING HINTS FOR YOUR HOME

Proper Use of Colors

RED—Red's primary use is an accent color, particularly in rooms that receive little sunlight. As such it should be used sparingly and with neutral backgrounds, such as white, cream, eggshell or light gray. Tints of red are suitable as the dominant treatment. Red may be used to advantage as a major color in rooms where little time is spent, such as a foyer or entrance hall. You must keep in mind a contrast with other colors, however.

GRAY—All grays form a neutral background. Use grey to tone-in with furniture and backgrounds of brighter hues. Gray is readily adaptable to white striping and stenciling around doors and windows. Gray matches well with almost any color of brighter hue.

YELLOW—For rooms facing the north or those receiving little light, direct yellow is a most practical treatment. Its versatility is best expressed with brown, blue or gray.

Moline Music Festival to Be Held, Sunday

Hundreds of talented young artists from 17 cities throughout Illinois and Iowa will be competing for honors tomorrow at the third annual Mississippi Valley Music Festival, which will be held in Soule stadium in East Moline. James Melton, handsome young radio tenor, will appear as guest artist, and there will also be selections by the colorful Ford Caledonian bagpipe band of Detroit.

The evening program will open at 6:30 o'clock with a half-hour concert by the concert orchestra. The regular Festival program is scheduled to begin at 7, in order to permit a brief postponement should the weather man interfere.

Philip Maxwell, director of the Chicagoland Music Festival each year at Soldier Field, will fly to the quad-cities in order to attend this year's Mississippi Valley Music Festival. Earlier in the evening, he will open a west side preliminary Festival in Chicago. Difference in Chicago and Moline time will permit him to attend two festivals scheduled to start at about the same time, at fields almost 200 miles apart.

Melton will also travel to Moline from New York by plane.

Miss Marie Worley of Dixon expects to attend the East Moline contests tomorrow. She is director of the Accordion band and Treble Clef choir, two of three local units scheduled to appear in the Chicagoland Festival.

Linkswomen Have Bulging Calendar

As the season progresses toward fall, linkswomen of the Dixon Country club are finding their golf schedule still bulging with interesting events which keep them out of doors. Yesterday, they were playing their weekly Ladies' Day matches, postponed from Wednesday because of an inter-city tournament at DeKalb, and two out of town invitations have been received for next week.

A dozen players turned out for yesterday's 18-hole handicap tournament. Mrs. Floyd Chapman carried low gross, 92, as well as low putts, with 30 strokes on the greens, and Mrs. R. C. Brewster had low net for the morning.

The Dixon players will join women golfers from Morrison, Clinton, and Deer Park for an inter-city match at Twin City Country club on Wednesday, and on the following day, the local group will be entertained at the Edgewood Country club at Polo.

Completion of their July contest and their championship tournament provide still further interest on the ladies' golf calendar.

NEA Service Staff

Correspondent

Hollywood, Aug. 10.—Things were kind of quiet on the "Hired Wife" set, as might be expected with three stars such as the retiring Briton, Brian Aherne, dignified Virginia Bruce, and purposeful Rosalind Russell. So that still photographer wasn't very hopeful when he suggested that maybe the principals would get up on the stage and dance. After all, this picture is a comedy, and he simply had to get some informal shots, and of course it was awfully warm, and he hated to ask this, and—

Why, sure, said the stars, heading for the platform, they'd give him something to shoot at. The band went into a jittery jive. Miss Bruce dead-panned a torrid routine, forefingers and bustle wagging as she trucked on down. Miss Russell nearly fell off the stage trying a high kick in her long evening gown. Mr. Aherne, heretofore considered pretty much of a stiff-collar man, went into a tap routine that set the extras to whooping and clapping.

When they'd stopped, the warm and beaming Aherne panted: "Could we do this again sometime? I've just thought of a couple of tricky steps I didn't try. One gets so rusty. Where'd I learn? Oh, one summer when I was in a New York show; took lessons for 50 cents an hour."

"Boom Town" is a movie in the super-duper category, action-packed and giving a thoroughly satisfactory accounting of its huge cast. But I'll remember it longest for the incessant ribbing between Clark Gable and Spencer Tracy, two items of which found their way into the picture.

In a courtroom scene, Tracy from the witness stand silences the pesky prosecutor and launches into a long, homespun speech which includes everything from oil conservation to Americanism. Defendant Gable, sitting with Claudette Colbert and listening in astonishment to the harangue, comments critically, "Quite a lot of ham in him, isn't there?" That crack was ad libbed. Director Jack Conway—and Tracy—let it stay.

Gable, in turn, lent his outstanding ears for a laugh in the picture. Tracy peers at the youngster who's supposed to be Gable's son and says, "Yeah, he looks like you. I think I'll buy him a football helmet."

"He's too young for a football helmet," protests his pappy. "I don't expect him to play in

"When Music, Heavenly Maid..."

Olivia de Havilland—one of the most exquisite personalities of the movie world—is shown in a scene from "My Love Came Back," in which she is starred with Jeffrey Lynn. Others prominent in the cast are Eddie Albert, Jane Wyman, Charles Winninger and Spring Byington.

MENDOTA PAIR IS TO WED PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pierce of Mendota are making known the approaching marriage of their daughter, Alice, to John Wesley Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Edwards of Mendota. The ceremony will take place Tuesday, Sept. 3, in the Advent Christian church, with the Rev. A. W. Brooks officiating.

Mr. Pierce's fiancée was graduated from Mendota Township high school in June, and he, with the class of '36. The couple will make their home in Mendota, where he is associated with the Conco Press.

it," says Tracy. "He ought to sleep in it!"

Frazzled from overwork, Tracy left for a month's vacation just as "Boom Town" went into production. But he took time almost daily to wire Gable begging him not to ham up the picture hopelessly before he could return, when he finally walked on the set, Gable was playing a scene. He was looking at a newspaper and exclaiming, "Shorty's in town!" But this time, having glimpsed Tracy on the sidelines, he padded his speech. He said, "Shorty's in town! The old — has been hiding in Palm Springs until the critics forgot his last picture."

There's an emotional scene in which angry Miss Colbert stands with her back to Gable, then turns to face him as he speaks. Mickey Rooney happened on the set that day, and Master Rooney can do a very fair imitation of the guy whom Carole Lombard calls "The Big Moose." (Incidentally, that nickname has been borrowed by this story.)

The two he-stars coached Rooney in the lines and pushed him on the set. Miss Colbert's expressions as she whirled and found herself in the arms of a half-pint hero should win her the Total Astonishment Award for 1940.

Life With Father "Eatingest" Play on Current Stage

Chicago, Aug. 10.—(AP)—One of the "eatingest" plays in American stage annals has paid a grocery bill of some $1,500 in its combined 65 weeks in New York and Chicago.

Gastronomically, as well as artistically and commercially, "Life With Father", comedy of late nineteenth century manners, is distinctive theatrical highjinks.

Including tonight's performance, players in the casts of the Manhattan and mid-western shows had partaken of a total of 1,560 meals on the set, three each time the play goes on the boards, plus 520 tea-time snacks and an equal number of cupcakes grabbed on the run.

For its money spent at market, "Life With Father" has had, in the 40 New York weeks and the 25 weeks here, some pretty impressive menus, especially when it is considered that the three meals are all breakfasts. Here are some of the totals:

More than 3,600 oranges; 3,120 bananas (which are fried into a resemblance to kippers); 520 pounds of butter; and the same quantity of bacon; 1,300 quarts of milk; 520 packages of cereal; 3,120 tea biscuits; 1,560 slices of toast; 1,040 apricots (which are substituted for eggs); 1,560 tea bags; 520 lady fingers; and 65 pounds of coffee.

James W. Sutcliffe, property master of the Chicago company and a veteran of 42 years in show business, said it was the first time in his experience that a complete kitchen had been set up backstage to serve hot food to the players without faking. The use of the bananas and apricots instead of kippers and eggs was not to be considered faking, he added. Usually, when a script calls for the serving of food, the necessary dishes are sent in from a nearby restaurant.

Sutcliffe is the chef of the troupe. He starts his kitchen duties two hours and a half before curtain time to make sure that no hitch develops.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and repudiated by those who surrender to the passions and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

Doing What Can't Be Done

There's a little story going the rounds that ought to be read to every person who has any connection with the defense drive.

It runs like this:
In one of our biggest electric light plants, the research department had a little joke that they used to play on every new man. Everybody knew that you couldn't frost electric light bulbs on the inside. It had to be done on the outside, though a better bulb would have been produced with a smooth outside, the frosting within. But of course it couldn't be done.

So they would select each new researcher to work on the problem. And when he came back a little later and reported that it couldn't be done, they would all relax for a big laugh and explain that yes, that was the joke.

But one serious-minded new researcher never did get it. He viewed the problem gravely. Nobody put him wise to the fact that it couldn't be done. So he kept pegging away at it.

One day he came in and reported that he had the answer. He showed his process. Not only had he devised a means of frosting the inside of the bulbs, but a process that etched the depressions uniformly in the glass and made a stronger and better bulb to boot.

The joke was n't so funny then. We don't know whether they ever told the young man about the "impossible" task they had set him. But he hadn't known it was impossible, so he did it.

The large-scale maneuvers this summer, rudimentary as they are in some respects, ought to give the top command in the army some kind of a line on which officers are obsessed with impossibilities, and which go right ahead with what they have and do the job anyway.

Those who sneer at gaspate anti-tank guns and shrug shoulders at antiquated tanks may well remember that only a few years ago the very German army which today looks so unbeatable was training with tin-covered touring cars for tanks and sailplanes for dive bombers.

That's not to say that we shouldn't get the new equipment and get it in jig-time. It is simply to say that much valuable training can be had anyway. General Marshall didn't wait for the new equipment to get ready a fast-moving motorized Marine landing force. He took what he had and shook it together into a real organization.

From lance corporal to secretary of war we need men who haven't been told that "it's impossible". Among such men a number never do find it out. They get the job done.

August and England

August is a memorable month in the history of England. Within our own time it was on Aug. 4, 1914, that England declared war against Germany and was a noteworthy warrior in the struggle which so completely vanquished the Kaiser.

And it was on Aug. 14, 1066, that William the Conqueror engaged the English at the battle of Hastings, slew King Harold and within four months had consolidated the kingdom under his own rule.

We speak of the English, but as a matter of fact the English nation is a fusion of "original" inhabitants with those who went there to fight and remained to become Englishmen. These included warriors from regions now designated as Denmark, Holland, Norway, France and Germany, the latter being the Angles and Saxons. It is noteworthy that all these invaders were fearless warriors. We suggest that from these antecedents the present British acquired their sturdy character and their inability to change their minds when confronted with such weak stuff as military suasion.

Prior to the Hastings affair the people of England had been trounced or humiliated on more than one occasion. It needed the infusion of Norman stock to produce a people that never has been defeated on the home field since 1066. The invasion probably taught the British a lesson. Indeed, even William himself probably learned something.

It became evident that if the country could maintain enough ships, an invader couldn't land, nor could he blockade the island. The English became fine seamen, and for centuries no other power has been able to set foot on the isle.

But this dependence upon ships was confined largely to ocean vessels, and now there is another kind of ship to which the British have not paid sufficient attention—or have they? Regardless of what happens in the immediate future, the English people will remain intact and once they recover their independence, if they lose it, no one will catch them napping again with ships, either air-going or sea going.

America Becomes Music Capital

America is rapidly becoming the musical capital of the world.

Driven from country after country, musicians have been gravitating to the United States in such numbers as to assure that the immediate future of music will be written here.

Add together these names: Artur Schnabel, pianist; Igor Stravinsky, Paul Hindemith, and Kurt Weill, composers; Lotte Lehmann and Kirsten Flagstad, singers; and Arturo Toscanini and Bruno Walter, conductors. It is as bright a galaxy as may be seen in the world of music. All have come to the United States because of the impossible state of Europe.

We hope they will stay, and that they will find such conditions in America as will produce a flowering of great music.

News Behind THE NEWS

Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.

Washington, Aug. 9 — Grim British frowns backstage have stopped cold, and silently, here the plea of American Ambassador Cudahy for shipment of our food surpluses into occupied European areas facing winter starvation.

It is a subject upon which neither British nor American officialdom likes to talk. No doubt exists about Cudahy telling the truth. France may be able barely to squeeze through a hard cold season without much outside help, but Belgium, Holland, Denmark and Norway will suffer fatally. In normal times, these four must import not only the grains, but fats for themselves and fodder for their livestock. They cannot live without imports. German occupation has cut them from their source of supplies and Germany has no substitute supplies to offer them.

Yet there is little criticism of the British position on top here. The British position is not regarded as inhuman by those who know the facts. British lives also are involved.

It is not merely that every sack of American flour which goes into Belgium will relieve Germany as much as the suffering Belgians. The Germans, of course, will not take the flour for their own use unless they need it and apparently they do not; but its arrival will relieve them of the responsibility of keeping the Belgians alive. Hungry nations will be troublesome prisoners and improve British chances as much as the fighting of British armed forces.

The responsibility is solely Germany's. Hitler could solve the problem by restoring the nations he seized to an independent status thus permitting them to trade with the outside world. They could sell their own goods in exchange for food and fodder.

Bill Bullitt, the American ambassador to lost France, is telling it only where he knows it will not be repeated, but he was mayor of Paris for three days. Fear of diplomatic complications has caused his caution about disclosing what probably is as unique a job as a foreign diplomatic emissary of this country has performed.

When the French government departed just before the arrival of the Germans, they asked Bullitt to take charge and run the city to prevent disorder. He was actually in control of both the police and fire departments for three days before the Germans were able to take over. Apparently he was a pretty good mayor. Looting was held at a minimum.

Afterward at Vichy, the new French-Fascist government chief, Petain, personally thanked the ambassador for his work.

From the incident springs Bullitt's fair-minded attitude towards the Petain government. Since his return his private comments about the menace of communism and democratic corruption in France necessitating some such action, has caused the new deal left-leaning group to turn strongly upon him. He has become a whipping boy for the same set of which he formerly was the darling.

Pictures are coming through from Berlin to verify Cudahy's additional compliment to the complete order which Hitler is maintaining in the seized nations, out they do not give the whole picture. German soldiers are shown buying French cigarettes, for instance, and paying for them, instead of stealing them in accordance with old custom. But what the pictures do not show is that the soldiers are paying in money that is not truly money. The Germans are issuing special kinds of marks for use in occupied zones—marks which do not represent any value upon German books in Berlin. In effect, they are not marks at all—merely receipts.

When peace is finally established, Berlin will decide the value of these receipts. It is no secret that Hitler intends to throw them back upon the occupied governments as part of the cost of occupation. Thus what looks orderly to the eye is really just a deft and orderly theft, camouflaged by economic ramifications.

Heavy taffy pulling with Louis Johnson by a White House squadron failed initially to bring the bounced ex-assistant war secretary back into the fold. Presidential Press Secretary Stephen T. Early who has been known to lasso a recalcitrant across the continent with one swing of the taffy, went to San Francisco for Johnson and spent an entire day in the St. Francis hotel sticking him with arguments that he should not go away mad.

Johnson went home to West Virginia to think it over, probably will see the president next week, and get a better job than the one previously offered.

BLACKSMITH IS SORRY SONS DO NOT LIKE WORK

Says There Are Plenty Of Horses, But Boys Haven't Interest

By JERRY BAULCH

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 10—(AP)—It isn't for lack of horses in the city that the four James boys aren't blacksmiths, like their ancestors 300 years before them.

"Their heart just wasn't in it," moans Abraham James, 68-year-old father of the young men. "No, their heart just wasn't in it, and I don't believe you can force a man to do something his heart isn't in."

"That's what wrong with my trade now—too many hacks in it, just for a living."

Father James is a bit sad about it all, though. He wishes at least one of the boys had "the heart" for carrying on the trade in the family. Five generations of Jameses have taken pride in their ability with forge and hammer. But all four young men are settled in other professions.

Still a mighty smithy of six feet and 245 pounds, Abraham James has grown a bit paunchy with the years, but his sinewy arms still pound tirelessly from dawn till dusk.

The heavy-jowled Newfoundlander believes he still can beat any young blacksmith, asserting with calm assurance, "I can shoe a pair of horses in 34 minutes and it takes most guys an hour to shoe one."

Shod 53 Horses

Time was when "I started at 3 o'clock in the morning and when I quit at 10:30 that night I had shod 53 horses," he says in describing a blacksmithing contest he won in Hartford, Conn. "The most the others could do was 10 or 12."

Shoeing horses isn't the whole of a blacksmith's art, at least not to the generations of Jameses. He works with fire and metal as an artist does with paint and canvas.

To prove his artistry, James displays a profession of delicately-shaped metal leaves he had pounded into intricate shapes through hours of heating and bending.

One of his finest jobs, he says, was the forged work in St. Peter's and Paul's Cathedral in Chattanooga, Tenn. The contractors recruited him from Hartford, Conn., because he was the only one they could then get capable of shaping the myriad of complicated figures.

James married in Nashville soon afterward and came to Memphis, where he has been employed at iron works.

His ancestors were hearty Newfoundlanders. When a lad, Abraham James stood on a box to reach the forge when he learned the blacksmith's tricks from his father. By the time he was 17, he had his own shop.

James accompanied Commodore Robert Edward Peary on seven of the explorer's trips into the frozen north, where he made fish hooks, hooks for spears and anchors.

Years beside the forge in both sub-zero and sweltering weather have hardened James to the task. He works his full day, despite his 68 years.

"Men are like machines," he asserts. "They rust out when they aren't in use. I'll keep right on and retire when I'm dead."

President Inspects New England Defenses

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 10—(AP)—President Roosevelt began a week-end inspection of New England sea and land defenses today by observing conditions at the Portsmouth navy yard where submarines costing $27,500,000 were being built and plans for several others were being drafted.

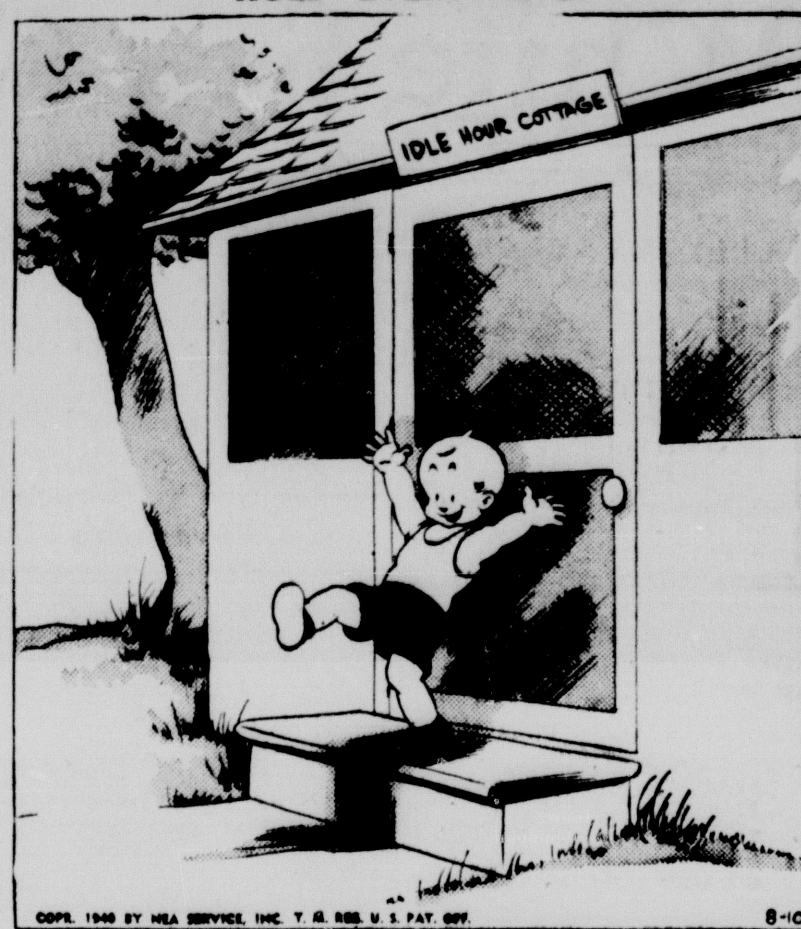

Accompanied by Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, the chief executive arrived by train from Hyde Park, N. Y., and went immediately to the yard. Francis P. Murphy, Republican governor of New Hampshire, joined the presidential party at the railroad station.

New Hampshire and Maine state police men in closely guarding the president as he was driven under a scorching sun to the yard over a route from which traffic had been cleared.

The commandant of the yard, Rear Admiral John D. Wainwright, also joined the president at the station and drove with him to the base.

Within an hour of his arrival at the yard the president boarded the White House yacht Potomac and headed for the Boston navy yard.

Over 25,000,000 Gallons of Water Pumped in Month

Patrons of the Dixon Water Company used more than 25,000,000 gallons of water in July. Secretary Glen Coe disclosed today. July 24th was the record day for the month at the plant at Artesian Place and East River street, when more than 1,100,000 gallons of water was pumped from the wells into the mains.

During the evening of July 24, more than 2,000 gallons a minute for a period of two hours was required. In July, 1937 a total of 1,300,000 gallons was pumped in a 24 hour period, which stands as a record. At that time, however, hundreds of gallons of water were wasted daily in the main on the b.d. of the river through-leaking joints.

More water was used in May than in June, the pumpage records indicate. In May 19,994,000 gallons were pumped from the wells while in June the pumpage dropped to 19,400,000, to be increased during the month of July by more than five million gallons.

Mayor William Siltowther today ordered the Water company to build an additional extension to the system. The extension provides for a six inch main on Ninth street, Factory street, Grace and Sherman avenues.

When in reception room I sat,

Waiting for her, two hours flat,

V. F. W. TEAM INVITED TO PICNIC

Members of the V. F. W. hardball team have been invited to the vets' annual picnic to be held tomorrow at Mont Flats. The boys are asked to meet at the Dixon Recreation at 11:30 a. m. for transportation. A softball game between the V. F. W. team and the Veterans of Foreign Wars will be a feature of the afternoon's entertainment.

JUST TO REMIND YOU

Included in your baseball program for tomorrow are two local events you will not want to miss. In the afternoon at Reynolds field the Dixon Knacks will play the Shabbona club in an important league engagement. In the evening two softball games at the Airport park will draw another large crowd. The Dixon girls will play the Triumphant Lassies in the preliminary game and in the nightcap the James Billiards meet the Belvidere Parsons. The afterpiece should go down in softball history with Lefty Johnson vs. Irv Schulte on the mound. Schulte, who has pitched for the Dixon club several times, will now be the opposing mounder.

GOLF MATCH TOMORROW

Six members of the Plum Hollow Country club will get off to an early start in the match the locals have tomorrow at Mt. Morris Country club. Em Rorer, "Babe" Martin, Dale Sennett, Ed Worley, Red Flanagan and Don Hilliker will be "a. m." golfers with the others to follow them in afternoon matches.

HE'S IN THE ARMY NOW

Roy Etnyre, for five years the coach at Byron high school and well known throughout the Route 72 conference, has resigned to accept a position as first lieutenant in the United States army. He leaves Monday for Fort Sheridan where he will see active service for a year. At Byron Coach Etnyre has made a fine record in his five years and his six-man football teams have acquired a national reputation. His successor has not been selected as yet.

TENNIS CHALLENGE

Bob McNamera challenged and defeated Bill Moser with set scores of 6-4 and 6-2 in a tennis match at the high school courts last night. The results put McNamera in No. 4 spot in the standings of the Dixon Tennis club and Moser on the No. 5 perch.

OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME

The Dixon Evening Telegraph has chartered special buses to transport the members of the Treble Clef choir, the Troubadettes and Miss Marie Worley's Accordion band to Chicago for the Music Festival next Saturday. Round trip costs have been set at the minimum of $2.95 offering sports fans an excellent opportunity to go in for the Cubs-Pirates baseball game. The three musical organizations, sponsored by the Telegraph, will leave Chicago following the festival. Reservations are now being accepted at The Telegraph offices.

"... AND THERE WAS LIGHT"

Step by step the progress for the big dedication of the lighted athletic field begins to appear as one of the major all-time highlights of Dixon sports. Yesterday the Illinois Northern Utilities company finished the work of hanging the 40 lights and reflectors on the poles around the field. The high lines have not yet been put up and there is still considerable work to be done. But everything should be in a blaze of glory come September 13.

A THIRD ALL-STAR TEAM

Ed Trotter and Frank Keller are cooking up a third all-star softball team and have issued a challenge to either the James Billiards or John Lange's team. The third all-star aggregation would be picked from the league with Frank Keller as manager and Joe Sweeney to coach. Very soon now the whole league roster will be associated with one or another all-star team.

SEE WHITE SOX GAME

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cruise and Mr. and Mrs. William Eller were among those who watched the White Sox triumph over the Detroit Tigers last night in Chicago.

THE HEIGHT OF SOMETHING OR OTHER

We don't know just what so say about it, but it's certainly the height of something or other. The I. N. U. softball team, cellar club of the league with two more postponed games to be played, has just received their new bright red uniforms and will trot them out Monday night in the game with Sparky's.

ADDED ASSISTANCE

The Franklin Grove Reporter, the oldest weekly in Lee county, has consented to help in the polling of ballots for the all-star team being selected from the Illinois State Baseball league. The Reporter this week has a ballot printed for the fans of its territory. Three county papers, the Reporter, the Ashton Gazette and the Ansony News, are now working with the Telegraph and their co-operation is sincerely appreciated.

GIRLS' TENNIS MATCH POSTPONED

The Dixon girls' tennis club is finding it hard to get their first match played. The one scheduled at Morrison for Sunday has now been postponed and may be played a week later.

MORE TENNIS

Anna Malarkey challenged Gertrude Wallin at the high school tennis courts yesterday and Miss Wallin defeated her No. 1 spot in the girls' club with set scores of 7-5 and 6-3. Miss Malarkey is now No. 4.

LANGE'S TEAM LOSES AT FREEPORT

John Lange's aggregation of softball stars lost a nine-inning decision to the Henney's league leaders at Freeport last night, 10 to 4. Flash Fordham did the chugging for the Dixon boys and allowed 10 hits. The Lange's team got seven raps. Red Flanagan belted a home run for the locals.

Helen Jacobs Hopes to Even Her Series with Alice Marble Today

By BILL WHITE

Rye, N. Y., Aug. 10.—(AP)—Stoic Helen Jacobs, who had the misfortune to be born about the same time as two of America's greatest women tennis stars—Helen Wills Moody and Alice Marble—has a hunch she may even her all-time series with Queen Alice today in the finals of the Eastern Grass courts championship.

They've met five times and Alice has won three times. But if she's right today, Helen, in her 17th year of big-time tennis, may stave off another of the heart-breaking defeats that have marked her as the "perennial second best."

Although Miss Jacobs was national champion four years, her victories came after Helen Wills finished and before Alice Marble came on the scene. Now, slimmer than ever and feeling much better, Helen thinks she may square the series.

Alice, in the eastern final for the fourth straight time, is at the top of her game and it's hard to imagine a greater upset than a loss to Miss Jacobs, who gave Miss Marble her last defeat in the semifinals at Wimbledon in 1938.

In today's other feature match,

Bobby Riggs, national champion, and Seattle's "comeback kid," Henry Prusoff, who ousted Frank Parker from the meet Thursday, clash to see which one will face Don McNeill in Sunday's final. McNeill battered his way into the last round yesterday with a 2-6, 6-4, 6-1, 6-3 victory over Bitay Grant.

Miss Marble advanced to the final with a 6-2, 6-0 conquest of Gracy Wheeler while Miss Jacobs trounced Sarah Palfrey, 6-3, 6-4.

Games Monday Night
I. N. U. vs. Sparky's
Kellers vs. State Hospital.

It's August and the harvest season, and even the Dixon softball league has gone to seed. Last night two miserable five-inning games did very little toward the cause except to elevate Freemans into a three-way tie for second place and designate them as the fourth team to play in the "pay-off" series.

The Freemans started the first game of the evening with a protest lodged against the State Hospital because of new players, but it didn't matter, the shoemen won a close 7 to 6 victory which seemed at times to be just about to slip out of their fingers. They would have lost nothing but their pride in dropping the game, but big slices of their pride were on the block with some of the season's snappiest heckling going on from both sidelines.

Freemans scored two runs in the first inning with two errors by the hospital and singles by Kuhn and Clayton.

Hospital Takes Lead

The Hospital took the lead with four runs in the first of the second stanza on one error, two walks, a triple by Miller and singles by Tinsley and Thomas.

In the third inning the Hospital scored two runs on a two-base error in right field, a triple by Horsley and singles by Grace and Mossey.

Freemans knotted the count in the last of the same frame with four tallies which were counted on a fielder's choice, doubles by Kuhn and Dempsey and base hits by Reynolds and Williams.

The winning run was scored in the last of the fifth when Dempsey clouted the apple to drive in Reynolds from third base as the bags were fully populated.

Williams was the winning chucker and allowed six hits, walked three and struck out five. Hahn gave eight hits, struck out six and walked two.

PAIR OF JACKS TO OPEN

The Three Deuces had a pair of jacks to open, using Hoyle's home run on the first ball pitched to him. When the hands were put down, the Bushman boys held 13 tallies to 3 over the Moose lodge.

The winners scored seven runs in the first inning—almost a pat hand from the start—on four hits, a walk and five errors. The slugging included Hoyle's homer, a double by Anderson and singles by Bushman and McCoy.

Three More Runs

Three more tallies were added in the first of the second on a single by Bushman and doubles by Glessner and Mason added to two more errors.

McCoy walked to start the third frame and scored on an error by the second baseman and one by the shortstop.

As first man up in the fifth Mason slammed out the game's second home run. McCoy singled and scored from third on a sacrifice fly by Winebrenner.

The Moose Lodge was saved from a shutout humiliation in the last of the fifth when three runs scored on a double by B. Shoemaker, a single by Kalebaugh, and four errors.

Anderson, the winning pitcher, was rapped for four hits, struck out four and walked four. Newcomer hurried two innings for the

THE FISHERMAN'S MUSKIE CHANCES ARE FAIRLY SLIM

By Charley Johnson

If you go muskie fishing and catch a muskie, consider yourself fortunate. Not everybody has such good luck, even though he may have fished hard enough to deserve one.

We hear about the muskies that are caught, and about the big ones that get away, but we hear little of the days and weeks spent by fishermen who don't raise a muskie. There is, of course, little for those unfortunate ones to talk about.

When we go bass, walleye, or trout fishing, we are reasonably sure that on an average day we will get some fish, even though it may be only one or two. But when we go muskie fishing, we look up.

Bimelech Gets Last Chance as Three-Year-Old

By TOM SILER

Chicago, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Bimelech gets his last chance today to nail down the three-year-old championship of the season. But the competition may be too stiff for him in the rich American derby, as it has been three other times this season. Seldom has a horse race perplexed turf followers as has this 30th renewal of the $62,900 mile and a quarter feature at Washington Park.

Arrayed against Col. Edward Bradley's breezing bullet are Galahadion, Sirocco, Midland, Weigh Anchor and a surprise entry, Super Chief.

If all six go to the post, the winner's purse will be worth $47,875. The overnight odds make Sirocco a slight favorite at 9-5. Bimelech being ranked next at 2 to 1.

Past records only add to the confusion in trying to dope the race. Bimelech failed in the Kentucky Derby, Wither's Mile and Arlington Classic, but won the Preakness and Belmont Stakes. Galahadion won the Kentucky Derby and Sirocco was an upset victor in the Arlington Classic. Midland has won none of the big events, his best being a second in the Preakness.

Super Chief and Weigh Anchor are strictly long shot possibilities. Thus a victory for Bimelech today would assure his recognition as the three-year-old titlist, but a victory for any of the others would only muddle the picture worse than ever.

A crowd of 35,000 was anticipated for the season's final battle of three-year-olds.

Moose and allowed seven hits, whiffed none and walked one.

In the remaining three stanzas Gene Shoemaker was slapped with only three hits, walked one and struck out one.

Same Old Hands Continue To Lead Sluggers

New York, Aug. 10.—(AP)—The same old hands still are at the batting helm of the two major leagues and nothing short of some sudden and surprising effort from the rest of the hitters is likely to bring about a change.

Both Rip Radcliff of the St. Louis Browns and Hank Danning of the New York Giants slipped slightly this week, but the era of good pitching in the big leagues had the same effect on the batting averages of most of the other top hurlers.

Radcliff's mark dipped from .367 to .360 and Danning's from .353 to .334. However, Barney McCosky, the No. 2 man in the junior circuit, also fell three points to .348 and in the National League Merrill May of the Phillies, who had been within four points of Danning, skidded away off to .318.

This latter development was accompanied by the sensational spurt of Boston's Carvel Rowell, who moved from nowhere into second place with a mark of .327.

The ten leaders and ties in each league:

Another four-hit pitching show was the one Truett (Rip) Sewell of the Pittsburgh Pirates put on in beating the Chicago Cubs, 6-2. He faced only 30 batters and might have had a shutout except for Bill Nicholson's 19th home run with one on in the seventh.

The triumph raised the Pirates into the first division for the first time since the early days of the season and dropped the Cubs out of it for the first time in the same period.

Red Ruffing and Steve Sundra of the New York Yankees collaborated in the two-hit performance which subdued the Philadelphia Athletics, 2-0. Ruffing started and gave up one single in the first inning, then voluntarily retired and with one out in the third because of a pulled muscle in his left leg. Sundra, who hadn't won a game all year, then took over and allowed only another single for the remainder of the route.

Each of the other games in the American league were decided in the last half of the ninth. Lefty Ed Smith of the Chicago White Sox stifled the slugging Detroit Tigers with five hits, and struck out 11, but it took a double by Mike Kreevich behind Smith's single and a sacrifice to bring home the deciding run—the only earned run of the game—in a 3-2 victory.

The St. Louis Browns saved Detroit from loss of the league lead by coming from behind to down the Cleveland Indians, 4-3. For six innings Mel Harder ne St. Louis to two hits while his mates got him a 3-0 lead. Walt Judnich's 21st home run with one on helped erase that advantage and in the ninth Harold Clift's double, a scratch-single by Don Heffner and a listy one by Bob Swift scored the winning run.

LINCOLN'S NEW SALEM LIFE TO BE DRAMATIZED

Sponsors Hope to Make Commemoration An Annual Event

Petersburg, Ill., Aug. 10.—(AP)—The New Salem years of Abraham Lincoln will be dramatized next month on historic ground, introducing to the public a venture which the sponsors hope to perfect as a commemoration comparable in spirit to the passion play of Oberammergau.

To the end that the Lincoln festival shall grow into an annual event of increasing national importance, federal, state and civic agencies have joined forces in the effort to establish New Salem as an American shrine.

Fathered by the New Salem-Lincoln league of Petersburg, the celebration, scheduled for September 26, 27 and 28, will have as its piece de resistance a folk play based upon Lincoln's early adulthood.

Heartily approved by Gov. Henry Horner, the undertaking has enlisted the cooperation of the state division of parks and memorials and the department of public works and buildings, the Illinois branches of the federal writers, art and music projects, WPA craft, sewing and recreation projects, CCC enrollees, the entire community of Petersburg and residents of all McAdams county.

Neighbors Included The pageant, as sketched by Henry E. Pond, president of the league, will seek to portray the character of Lincoln's neighbors as well as the rail splitter's own extraordinary and mystic nature. "We deem it important," Pond said, "that the world should know his neighbors and thereby gain a better understanding of the influences upon him".

Wherefore, from the pages of history will emerge, in actorial embodiment, figures such as Jack Kelso, Ann and James Rutledge, Jack Armstrong, Denton Offut, Henry Onstott, Philemon Morris, Samuel Hill, Peter Lukin and many others who lived in New Salem more than 100 years ago.

Among those people and amidst rude but sturdy pioneer surroundings in the heart of the prairie land came the slow surge of the Lincolnian philosophy. Here he wrestled the town braggart and made him his friend for life; here he puzzled over how a man may pay his debts when he has no money and apparently dismal prospects; here he found idyllic love and lost it cruelly; and here he told uncouth, sometimes obscene backwoods stories and converted them into unforgettable parables, and discovered in Shakespeare not only great beauty, but men like himself, whose souls also were in upheaval.

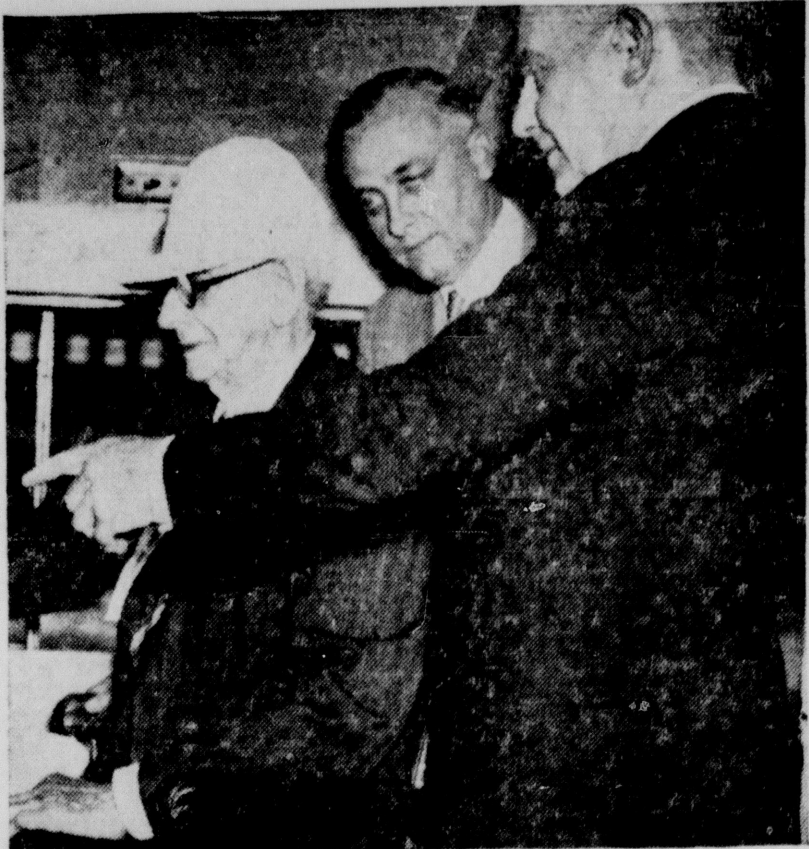

The old scenes and incidents, long an inspiration, will be revived on a natural stage in New Salem, a small shelf of ground flanked by venerable trees. Facing this little plateau is an amphitheater which needs the touch of no human hand to give it superior advantage; it is the "Kelso's Hollow" of old legend and fact, and 7,000 persons may be seated there.

Authentic Reproductions Surrounding and approaching the famous spot are the log cabins, postoffice, stores and taverns, some the actual rough-hewn buildings, others, authentic reproductions, fashioned with unerring fidelity.

Less than a whoop and a yell away is the place on the Sangamon river where young Lincoln's flatboat ran aground on the Rutledge-Cameron mill dam early in 1831, this mishap being the gawky frontiersman's introduction to New Salem. The dam and the mill are under reconstruction.

Each character in the pageant is being chosen from the immediate Lincoln country. Some of the participants are direct descendants of the early residents of New Salem; all are steeped in the Lincoln tra-

Veteran Tries His Hand

A veteran railroad engineer tries his hand at the controls of the Streamliner "40", crack Chicago and NorthWestern train, the locomotive of which has just completed 300,000 miles of uninterrupted service. At the controls (left) is Charles E. Van Vlack, ninety-five, who retired twenty-five years ago as an engineer for the railroad; L. L. White (center) chief operating officer, and R. L. Williams, chief executive officer of the railroad.

A ninety-five year old former engineer of the Chicago and NorthWestern Railway company joined officers of the railroad the other day in an inspection of the giant locomotives of the Streamliner "400" marking the completion of more than 300,000 miles of uninterrupted service.

He is Charles E. Van Vlack, who as long ago as 1881 was engineer for the North Western operating between Ashland and Antigo, Wis. Van Vlack, who retired twenty-five years ago and has been living in Jacksonville, Florida, since his retirement, inspected the sleek locomotives with R. L. Williams, chief executive officer of the railroad, and L. L. White, chief operating officer.

Van Vlack tried his hand at the controls of the Diesel locomotive at the North Western station in Chicago and explained that, although he has had forty years of railroad experience, it was the first time he ever was in the cab of a streamlined locomotive. Streamliners made their appearance long after Van Vlack retired from service.

A Civil War veteran who was with General Sherman in his famous march to the sea, Van Vlack came to Chicago in 1857 from Rochester, N. Y., where he was born. At the age of 17, in 1862, he enlisted for service in the Civil War but was later discharged when his age was discovered. He re-enlisted at the age of 19 at Geneva, Illinois, and saw service through April, 1865.

In 1871, the year of the great Chicago fire, Van Vlack entered service of the NorthWestern as a brakeman on the Galena division, subsequently becoming a fireman and was then promoted in 1880 to locomotive engineer, operating between Chicago and Clinton, Iowa.

In 1881 he was transferred to the Ashland division in Wisconsin where he saw service until 1915 when he retired at the age of seventy.

Van Vlack is a light eater, does not drink but has always been a heavy smoker of cigars and still smokes several daily. He has one son, Edward Van Vlack, who is in business in Ashland, Wisconsin. Van Vlack made a special trip to Chicago from Jacksonville, Fla., to attend the Chicago and NorthWestern Railway Veterans' Association banquet on July 13, remaining in the city several weeks during which time he took his first ride on the "400".

Music and dancing will complement the action of the play. The dominant musical contribution will be a symphony now being written under the direction of Albert Goldberg, state supervisor of the music project. The script of the play is being prepared by the writers project under the guidance of Barry Farnol.

Serving with Pond as directors of the New Salem-Lincoln League are Judge Frank E. Blane, Mrs. George D. Warnsing, Miss Bertha Bennett, J. Kennedy Kincaid, Elias Watkins, Emery Irwin, Ross A. Nance and W. Y. Ramsey, all descendants of the pioneer settlers of the Petersburg community.

In recent years, 129 species of fish have been identified in New York harbor.

IN THIS day of speed and travel it is difficult to expect the present or future generations to care for individual cemetery lots.

A few years past in the horse and buggy days, families would put their lawn mowers and trimming tools in the buggy and drive out to the cemetery on Sunday afternoons. There they would meet the families with the same interests and spend a happy afternoon beautifying their family estate and visiting friends.

Many of you who read this remember those days. But conditions have changed and now have cemeteries. The old cemeteries have become neglected and the new have planned differently.

Realizing the changing times and that the care must always rest with the management.

ALASKA'S PILOTS PREPARE WAY FOR AIR REARMAMENT

Some of World's Worst Flying Problems Are Solved in North

By DEVON FRANCIS Associated Press Aviation Editor Fairbanks, Alaska (Correspondence of The Associated Press)—In an area where airplanes are a more familiar sight than anywhere else in the world, pioneer pilots braving burning heat and frigid cold for years have been paving the way for territorial air rearmament.

A good many of the problems which otherwise would have faced the army and the navy in constructing new bases to buttress the nation's air defense were whipped in advance by a coterie of airmen to whom flying was only a workaday task.

A sizeable book on Alaskan flying, both along the fog and rain-drenched seacoast and in the vast, formidable reaches of the interior, already had been compiled when Congress a few months ago began turning its attention to the necessity for territorial air defense.

Alaska adopted the airplane in 1924 because of the territory's great distances, its mountains and the rigorous winters of the interior. Dog teams—still used generously—were sure, but slow, and the exploitation of a land with resources even yet hardly tapped required faster transport and communication.

Focal Point Fairbanks, focal point of Alaska flying, today has more than 50 planes based at its port—one for every 75 persons living within the city limits.

But in spite of the tremendous amount of commercial flying in Alaska in the past 15 years, the territory as yet lacks even one first-class airport. There are about 120 "fields" of one character or another. Radio aids to navigation are few. Men fly over desolate hundreds of miles, under low "ceilings" and through driving rains by precise navigation and an intimate knowledge of the terrain.

"Off there," remarked a Pacific Alaska airways pilot during a flight from Whitehorse, Yukon Territory, to Fairbanks, "about 25 miles is a settlement of three white men and a handful of Indians."

In the direction he pointed the terrain to the horizon looked exactly like that the plane had been passing over for 30 minutes—range upon range of low mountains apparently without a distinguishing landmark. A landing there would have meant a broken plane, possibly injury to personnel and passengers because most of the green, inviting ground actually was treacherous moss over-laying pools of water.

Radio "Beam" Station Here at Fairbanks a recently-installed radio "beam" station has developed split or multiple courses so that an unpracticed pilot can get an "on course" signal over an area of 15 miles. That is due to the high mineralization of the soil. Radio signals bounce and scatter on impact with it.

So much more remarkable, then, is the safety record of the scheduled and "for hire" pilots whose operations radiate to points as far away as Aklavik, northwest territory, one of the bases used by Sir Hubert Wilkins in his search for the lost Russian "over the pole" fliers in 1938, and Barrow, in Alaska.

July Allocations of Motor Fuel Tax Made

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 10.—(AP)—The state department of finance reported Friday $1,026,883 was allotted to Illinois counties as their net share of motor fuel tax collections for July.

The gross share for counties was $1,317,873, the report stated. Deductions of $290,989 were made for reserve to be used as interest and retirement payments on the state's $50,000,000 in relief bonds. The Cook county net allotment was $369,912 for July. Peoria received the largest amount for downstate counties with $26,446.

COLORINGS PROTECT IT

An excellent example of protective coloration is the Sargassum fish. It is rendered almost invisible when swimming in the floating beds of Sargassum weeds it inhabits, by its brown and yellow rattle-dazzle markings and the fleshy tabs on its body.

AMPLE WARNING

Inhabitants of our earth would have a 40-year notice of the dangerous approach of a star, according to astronomers. The warning would be given by a change in the orbits of our outermost planets, Pluto and Neptune.

An Unsolved Mystery

Monks Mound, largest of the many prehistoric mounds in Cahokia Mounds State Park, a few miles east of East St. Louis, Illinois. Monks Mound represents a greater amount of human labor than the great pyramid. The mounds are the oldest remains left by a prehistoric people on the North American Continent.

The region in Illinois just east of East St. Louis—part of the vast flood-plain of the Mississippi river—is extremely flat, and this fact renders all the more astonishing the appearance of the Cahokia Mounds as they rise unexpectedly from the prairie. A mystery to scientists since their discovery, they are a source of never-ending interest to the tourists who visit them.

Purposes in some pagan rite of the dim past? Were they designed as monuments to departed chieftains of some prehistoric tribe? Were they constructed as sanctuaries for prized possessions of aboriginal inhabitants of the region? The answers to these questions have not yet been discovered. But sufficient facts have been determined to lend much interest to the mounds. That they are man-made has definitely been determined. The staggering amount of human labor which was required to gather the huge mounds of dirt from the surrounding plain, basketful by basketful, and by a primitive people to whom labor-saving devices were unquestionably unknown, can hardly be conceived. It has been estimated that the construction of the largest of the mounds, sprawling Monks' Mound, required a greater expenditure of human labor than did the building of the Great Pyramid of Egypt.

Monks' Mound receives its name from a band of Trappist monks, who, in 1809 built a monastery just west of its summit, where they remained until 1813, when fever broke out and those who survived returned to France. Today a picnic area occupies the site of the monastery. The even outlines of Monks' Mound are somewhat concealed by the trees and shrubs which have grown on it with the passage of the centuries, giving it the appearance of a natural hill, instead of the man-made mound that it is.

The smaller mounds display their human origin better, since some of them are treeless, permitting a clear view of the terraced sides and flat tops. Scattered, apparently without rhyme or reason, over the landscape, they cause the observer to wonder whether each mound was built for a definite purpose, or whether each is part of a huge pattern having some mystic meaning.

While many relics have been discovered by excavation, there is no evidence that these strange mounds are ordinary burial mounds. Archaeologists agree that there is some deeper, and as yet undiscovered reason for their construction. They are believed to be the oldest remains of a prehistoric people on the North American Continent.

The Mounds are included in the boundaries of Cahokia Mounds State Park, maintained by the State of Illinois. Winding drives take visitors between the mounds where close scrutiny of them is possible. A museum at the foot of huge Monks' Mound has been built to house the relics which have been discovered in the mounds and in the surrounding area.
